

WILL ACQUIRE LAND FOR PARK PURPOSES

COUNCIL BUYS PROPERTY FROM SCHOOL BOARD—GRANT TO HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Acquisition of land for park purposes and general civic improvements is at last beginning to emerge from the files of the city council. Last week the council decided upon the construction of a driveway along the Red Creek ravine, if the co-operation of property owners can be obtained. Last evening they took up an offer from the school board, to sell lots 99 to 128, in block 14, H. D. B. The school board called for tenders for this property, which they now no longer require for school purposes. The consideration of these has been postponed in order to give the council an opportunity to acquire the property. The commissioners were instructed to take the matter up, secure statements as to cost, and report back to council. A resolution was carried requesting the school board to give the council first refusal to buy any real estate which may be for sale.

Grant to Horticultural Society. In spite of the opinion of the city solicitor, as expressed to the secretary of the horticultural society, that to make a grant to the society would be "beyond the powers of the council," such a grant was made in council on motion of Alderman Hyndman. The amount was $200, which will be adequate to wipe out the society's deficit of $188 and leave a considerable margin. What the council can and cannot do in matters of this character was made apparent.

Citizens Have Grievances.

Residents of the Fairview had a series of grievances. They petition for the removal of the Ross dairy from their neighbourhood, and asked that in future no dairy be established within one mile of Alberta avenue. These requests and a request for an extension of the pound limits, the commissioners will take up with the petitioners.

Theatres and other public buildings which are granted special fire protection, will have money for it in future. The council adopted a resolution to the effect that all fire dues in structures of this character, must be paid for by the owners of the property.

Visit Stone Quarry.

For the purpose of visiting a stone quarry some distance up the river, the council and commissioners will pay a visit of investigation. Strathcona representatives will also be invited. It is believed that the improvement of gravel streets can be carried out much more cheaply if stone from the river quarry be available.

The fourth street improvement, to be carried out at a cost of $2,500, was authorized by the council, and the work will be commenced by the engineer's department at once.

Grading of Twenty-third street from McKenna to Alberta avenues and paving of Rice from Namayo to Kinsella will be undertaken.

Purchase Stable.

The council authorized the purchase of a stable in the old exhibition grounds for the housing of the power house teams.

The team owners association were asking that all teams working in the city be required to take out a license. Dr. Melius thought the whole question was an altogether too indefinite basis.

Referring to the impending revision of the Edmonton bylaws, following on annexation, the chairman ordered that the best policy would be to defer action. Some five months would be required to complete this revision. The question will accordingly be laid over.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IS SPARED EMBARRASSMENT

(Western Associated Press)

London, Sept. 27.—The Leeds Mercury, commenting upon Canadian elections, says that it is fortunate that the Duke of Connaught was spared the embarrassment of dealing with the government. He has been spared this through the courage and honesty of Laurier, who scorned to cling to office without the confidence of his countrymen.

"Save the season of the green apple has arrived," said the teacher, "and—'Yesma,' shouted Young quickly. 'You should not interrupt me, Young, but how did you know about it?'" "I've had inside information, ma'am."

SPANISH OFFICERS COURT-MARTIALED

War Minister Says Question Is of No Importance. Refuse to Discuss It.

Valencia, Spain, Sept. 27.—A case of insubordination occurred recently in the Mallorca regiment, quartered in the San Juan de la Fibra barracks. It is stated that the affair arose from a disciplinary question between the officer on guard and the regimental sergeant. The authorities show considerable reserve regarding the character of the disturbance, and it is very difficult to obtain reliable information. It is known, however, that from twenty to twenty-five reliable sergeants have been placed under arrest, and that a court-martial has been opened.

Senor Barroso, Minister of the Interior, says that the war minister believes that the affair is of no political importance, that the insubordination was immediately quelled, and that the matter only affected the regimental discipline. On the other hand, the newspapers here all express surprise, that, in spite of the alleged unimportance of the affair, the government has kept all information about it from the public.

ELECTORS APPROVE AMALGAMATION

FAVOR MUNICIPAL GAS

By the decisive majority of 265, or 738 votes to 533, the citizens of Edmonton expressed themselves yesterday in favor of a municipality owned gas supply, and against franchise exploitation of the city's corporations. By their endorsement of the municipal principle they probably saved the municipality for all time from the evils of the franchise holding corporation.

The vote was decisive in spite of the tendency of a ludicrous ballot paper to confuse the issue. Had the citizens been asked to vote on the decisive question of a municipally owned gas plant, for or against, the municipal project would have been endorsed by a still larger majority. The ballot which well have been designed to confuse the voter. At least, that was what the average voter thought when confronted with the paper with its request for an expert opinion on the relative values of "illuminating" and "non-illuminating" gas.

"We pay our municipal experts to decide on technical questions," a citizen was heard to remark in public station No. 3. "How can they place responsibility for a matter of this kind on our shoulders?" The venture to say that not ten per cent of the ratepayers who fill out these ballot papers understand the difference between illuminating and non-illuminating gas, is not too far off.

met anyone who did?" Out of a total of 655 votes cast, 443 were spoiled. There would have been a majority in favor of municipal gas if every one of these had been allowed and had been recorded against municipal ownership. It was at poll No. 2, where 76 out of a total of 495 ballots were spoiled that the only majority against municipal gas was registered. Here the advocates of corporate ownership had the narrow majority of 15 in their favor.

Spoiled Ballots.

At the city hall as well as in most end polling divisions, the interpretation of the ballots proved a task requiring some finesse. The average ratepayer contented himself with merely voting for or against municipal gas, leaving the technical formulae to be worked out by the experts. Ballots on which the first question alone was answered, were of course discarded. Others on which the question of private or public ownership was left unanswered, but the technical questions disposed of, were also allowed. Among the spoiled ballots were several signed by gas enthusiasts, who demanded municipal gas both of the illuminating and heating variety, and others, made out by less conscientious voters, who answered the question both yes and no, while some, it is rumored, committed to writing their opinion of the city council while filling in the ballot.

Want Heating Gas.

The ratepayers declared for the one heated gas both of the illuminating and heating variety, by a majority of 251 votes. This is described as "non-illuminating," for purposes of illuminating only when the incandescent mantle is adopted. Although the people have declared that they need for the cheaper gas the illuminating gas, as estimated to cost $1.65 per 1000, it will of course remain for the expert to decide on the question. If the experts are of the opinion that coal gas is the best, all the plebeians in the world will make the adoption of the other variety feasible.

TRANSPORT WORKERS CAN TIE UP SHIPPING OF UNIVERSE EASILY

Would Take Only 24 Hours to Stop Every Merchant Vessel Afloat, Declares President of Organization—Control 300 Harbors in Europe

(By F. W. Wile.)
Berlin, Sept. 27.—"The International Transport Workers' Federation can tie up the shipping of the entire world within twenty-four hours," was the proud boast made by Herr H. Joachims, the German president of that remarkable organization which for the past seven years has had its central headquarters in Berlin. The International Federation was the first strike and employing its colossal powers of coercion on behalf of the strikers who recently upset shipping and trade in England. The British National Transport Workers' Federation had appealed to the international organization to declare an international boycott of English ships, just as the central executive in Berlin was the first to take action on the British organization's request peace negotiations were opened between the British strikers and their employers, and it did not become necessary for the international federation to tie up its mighty machinery in motion.

Herr Joachims spoke freely of the immense power for evil which the international federation could exercise in case of emergency. "We have control," he said, "over no fewer than 300 harbors throughout Europe and Asia, and forty-four separate national associations of workers are represented in the federation, with a total of 600,000 and 700,000 transport workers in the following 15 countries: Great Britain, Germany, the United States, Austria, Hungary, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Spain, Portugal, Bulgaria, Romania, Finland, and Switzerland. We are in constant and regular touch with our various constituent organizations through the medium of a "Correspondence Bulletin," published weekly in the different languages. Our international body is as thoroughly centralized and organized as the German General Staff. We work on important occasions with a secret cipher code which, if employed in telegraphic or cable communication, would enable us to paralyze traffic all over the world within twenty-four hours.

Not Necessary to Assist British.
"It was happily not necessary for us to 'clear for action' on behalf of our British comrades in their recent great struggle against the Shipping Federation and the railway barons. We should not have hesitated to do so had it been necessary, as our rights and duties in such circumstances are clearly defined by our statutes and by laws. The International Federation has no authority to declare strikes in any country. They are matters which belong exclusively within the jurisdiction of national federations. Our machinery is only put into motion on request of some national organization, and in conduct or direction of a strike would only be transferred to us if it became international. As long as it remains purely national, such as the recent trouble in Britain, it would be directed exclusively by the British federation.

Control Board Germans.
"The present governing board, or central council, of the International Transport Workers' Federation consists entirely of Germans. I have been president of the council since 1904, having been re-elected twice; the vice-president is Herr Doring, of the German dockers' union; the secretary is Herr Miller, of the German seamen's union; and the auditors of the federation fund are Herr Schumann, German transport workers' union and lawyer, society of German railwaymen. The fact that the entire central council is composed of Germans is not due to the custom of allowing the executive work to be attended to by the majority of the nationality of the country where the federation's headquarters is established. The German transport workers' federation is at present the numerically strongest in the international body. We have between 155,000 and 200,000 members, including men employed in practically every form of traffic—seamen, coasters, railway servants, transwaymen, chauffeurs, oil-drivers, etc. The British organizations affiliated with the international body are as follows:

The Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

National Union of Dock Laborers in Great Britain and Ireland.

Dock Wharf, Riverside and General Workers' Union of Great Britain and Ireland.

National Sailors' and Firemen's Union of Great Britain and Ireland.

Four Organizations.
"These four organizations, which comprise the National Federation of Transport Workers, of which Mr. Doring is president and Mr. Ben Tillett secretary, comprise between them some 100,000 members. The British organizations are not nearly so thoroughly organized nor individually so numerous as the German Transport Workers' Federation.

"It was resolved at our fifth international congress in Milan in 1907 that in case of a strike the federation can be expected to render assistance only if the struggle is of very great importance or of extraordinary extent, and if the organization which has gone on strike has applied for aid in its own name, or has put itself in communication with the central council of the International Federation before commencement of the strike.

"Whenever strikes occur our organization is called upon to keep the central management of the federation carefully posted whether it is intended to ask for international assistance or not. We, in turn, forward the information as fast as received to our various national organizations throughout the world, in order that they may be prepared to act promptly if co-operative action becomes necessary.

Contains Provisions.
"Our constitution contains very cautious provisions with regard to railway strikes. We recognize the impossibility of establishing certain rules to be followed in all countries. We expect the railwaymen's organizations affiliated with the federation to resort to strikes, passive resistance, or other fighting means for the social improvement of their members only if they are absolutely sure of public sympathy. We recommend strikes and other measures of last resort for the amelioration of railwaymen's grievances only after the impossibility has been demonstrated of arriving at a peaceful settlement between employers and employed or through the co-operation of parliaments or governments.

Enormous Fighting Power.
"Despite our cautious fighting power, the international federation's aims are definitely and essentially peaceful. We are unalterably opposed to sabotage (willful damage) or any other form of violence in connection with labor disputes. We are against international wars. Our motto is 'War on War.'

Herr Joachims, who is a fine example of the intelligent German labor leader, is a social worker by trade, but has been a railway servant in his time, his father having been an official of the Prussian State Railway.

The president of the International Federation of Transport Workers is a physical giant, just entering the forties, and of a type which would have rejoiced the heart of Frederick the Great in his search for towering grenadiers. Herr Joachims made the interesting statement that German railway servants are not only physically strong, but also are secretly identified with the International Transport Workers' Federation.

In addition to the 600,000 or 700,000 transport workers already formally included in the international Federation, Herr Joachims says that "intimate friendly relations" are maintained with 400,000 others, including the British Colonies of Australia and New Zealand, so that the international body practically speaks in the voice of 1,000,000 men in the transport industries.

The expenses of the International Federation are borne by the national organizations which comprise it, and which contribute at an annual rate of 45 Marks per member.

NOW PROPAGATING SEDITIOUS NEWS

MOVEMENT IS ON FOOT TO RE-VIVE THE DEMAND FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

(Cable News Cable)
London, Sept. 27.—The "Standard" says: There is reason to believe that the atmosphere of Ireland, hitherto cleared with the lightning stroke of the Home Rule bill, is yielding to a disquieting revival of the old Fenian demand for an Irish republic. Not only is there an organization engaged at the present time in actively propagating this frankly seditious and provocative propaganda, but the political situation in the island is developing in such a way as to bring many constitutionalists of the Home Rule party to an openly separatist movement.

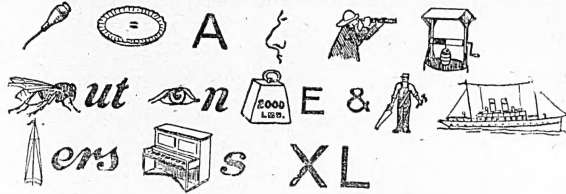

The organization which has revived this old Fenian demand calls itself the United National Society and conducts its work on the motto: "There are no conquered yet, dear land." Its membership is drawn from the most part from the more radical sections of the Sinn Féin and Gaelic movements. It has representatives over the greater part of Ireland and various centers of influence in Great Britain, including one in London. Something of the frank disloyalty with which this growing nucleus of Irish opinion expresses its contempt of the Home Rule bill, which they claim are now in sight in the coming Home Rule Bill may be gleaned from a passage in what is the organ most nearly representative of their opinions, the periodical published in Dublin under the name of "The Freeman."

"We stand for Ireland," ran an editorial in a recent issue of this paper, "in the face of hell, dog, or devil, we stand for Ireland, not for Ireland a portion of any empire, not for an Ireland swaddling clothes and leading strings, but for a self-reliant, free Ireland, with no sin upon its soul, and no claim upon its loyalty. We stand for Ireland which produced Brian, whose chosen place was the battlement which foreigner's hold away from his country; and Hugh, Shane and Owen O'Neill, and O'Donnell the Red, and Roger O'More, and Tone, and Emmet, and Fitzgerald, and Mitchell and Davis and Stephens and Rooney. Dead names crowd before our eyes, the gallant dead whose names we know, and the equally gallant dead whose names we do not know. Out of four-fifths of Ireland, and out of Ulster they come, a silent company, bearing witness to the nation, bearing witness by their wounds, marks of the hangmen, marks of the headsmen, marks of the torturer, marks of the slave overmaster, marks of starvation, bearing witness by their deeds and their courage, bearing witness by their deaths. We take our stand with them. On their behalf, on our own behalf, on behalf of the

COBB AND WAGNER BATTING LEADERS

Hans Wagner and Ty Cobb still lead the National and American leagues, respectively, in batting, with little chance that either one will be displaced at the end of the season. Wagner is batting .360 with Fred Glavin, .350, and Indian Meyers at .330, his closest opponents, of the regular players. Schulte and Zimmerman are well up in the first flight, the former whacking .321, with Heinie hitting .318. Shreckard leads as the best run getter in the National and Schulte as the leading home run slinger. Chicago leads in the matter of long hits, but is next to last in fielding. Cobb is leading .416 in the American, with Jackson .339, and Lajoie .332, leading others. Lajoie, McKeay and Black are the only Chicago players who are .300 or better. The Sox are only two points behind the Athletics in club fielding, with Harry Lord as one of the ten leading sluggers of the league. In the pitching records, Bender virtually leads the league, while his team mate, "Iron Man" Jack Combs, has the honor of having won more games than any other pitcher in either league.

PRESIDENT OF THE NORTHWESTERN LGE. RESIGNED

Seattle, Sept. 27.—Judge Robert H. Lindsay, president of the Northwestern league, will not be a candidate for re-election. Baseball has interfered with his law practice, and he does not care to give up the profession in which he has attained eminence to hold a job that is a handicap at best. The judge sent a letter last evening to the different directors confining his resignation to a position on the King County Superior Court bench at the next election. He has a host of friends, and they are urging him to be a candidate.

Several candidates have been sprung for the presidency of the Northwestern league for 1912. Joe Cohn is reported to be grooming Fehder Jones as his opponent. Judge McGredie would take the position, he would probably have no opposition, except if he never held the position of the league to have a club owner for president.

The Portland papers have been booming Mayor Kinsman of Vancouver, Wash., but the truth of the matter is Kinsman desires the stadium, and baseball is being used to give him publicity. Well, here is a chance to dig up candidates. The field appears to be open.

"Did you ever play in Hamlet?" inquired a theatrical manager of a recent acquisition to his company. "Never," exclaimed the newcomer. "Why, I've played in every hamlet in Canada."

EDMONTON WILL BE STRONG AT THE PROVINCIAL SWIM

FIVE MEN WHO WILL GO TO CALGARY FOR PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The swimmers who will represent Edmonton at the provincial swimming meet at Calgary are James McKeay, John Hays, Alex McKenzie, Geo. Dougherty and James Heston. This is the first time that Edmonton has ever sent a team to the swimming championships. The result of this venture is that Calgary holds all the championships.

The men will enter in the five senior events and the relay race. They are all fast men and should bring back some of the prizes.

Oh, Pittsburg, smokiest city of the West,
From whom our Giants seek the flag to wrest!
Oh, splendid Pittsburg, oft disgraced,
We know,
By following heirs, who sigh for show!
Oh, noble, noble Pittsburg, wondrous town!
Oh, brightest (?) gem in Pennsylvania's crown!
We love thee, Pittsburg, in its days of yore,
But don't forget, we love our Giants more.

Dear old St. Louis, great old river town!
We never topped on you when you were down.
We gave you Bresnahan, and prayed that place
Would be your finish in the pennant race.
Kind old St. Louis, have a good cheer
And treat our Giants like the host you are.
A knock on your fair town would get us sore,
But don't forget, we love our Giants more.

Real Estate BULLETIN

In Business Properties Jasper Avenue and Track-are are in demand.

In residential lots the West End Subdivisions have the preference. There is also considerable movement in Norwood.

In Houses there is demand for the cheaper class in the East End, but for the better class of residence the West End is preferred.

We have enquiries for blocks of Farm Lands, Sub-division Lands and Central Business Properties.

ALBERTA PARK

This suburb is being offered in blocks of almost five acres, suitable for re-subdivision into lots whenever desired, at and below the price at which adjoining quarter sections are being held.

We advise the early securing of one or more of these.

SUDDEN DEATH OF GALICIAN FARMER

IS FOUND DEAD UNDER PILE OF RUBBISH ON RICE STREET MARKET

J. Modisla the middle aged Galician who was found dead under the market square shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon and whose body is still lying at Gentry and McKimley's morgue will probably be buried in the Edmonton cemetery. His wife and family are remaining in the city pending the disposal of the body.

Modisla was a Galician farmer who lived in the neighborhood of Waugh P.O., on the Landing trail. He was 34 years old and leaves a wife and family of several children.

The circumstances surrounding his death are as follows. About noon his family moved him from the market square and as he was subject to fits they became anxious. No trace of him could be found until it was reported at the waterworks department by some children that there was a man lying under some tin. An examination showed that it was he for whom they were looking. He had been seized with a fit and had crawled under the tin to die.

The body was identified by his brother-in-law, and the body was finally notified of the discovery. The funeral will probably be held this afternoon.

BENZINE BUGGY FOR POLICE CHIEF

COMMISSIONERS ARE AUTHORIZED TO PURCHASE MACHINE—ALDERMAN GOWAN'S DECLARATION

A trade against speed mania and Jasper avenue riders was in council last evening by Alderman Gowan. The occasion of the eloquent declaration was a letter from the Automobile club of the city stating that certain street crossings on Jasper avenue are given attention. In some parts of Victoria avenue, it was declared, the crossing lay eight inches below the level of the rest of the street. On Jasper avenue at Ninth street and at Twenty-third, the worst places were to be found.

"If I had anything to do with it I would raise the crossings two inches lower," said Alderman Gowan. People who drive a forty miles an hour on the main streets of the city deserve to have their necks broken. I have no sympathy with them."

However, Alderman Gowan's declaration that he would make the streets worse instead of better was for rhetorical purpose only. When a motion to refer the Automobile club's letter to the road superintendent was put, he was one of its supporters.

Chief of Police Lacey is to have a real automobile. "We don't want to get a toy," said Alderman Gowan, "the chief's request for an $800 machine was read in council. If the chief has to undertake the cost of a light machine is of no use." The commissioners will take the matter up with the chief, with power to act.

Lacey's benzine buggy destined to strike terror into the hearts of local back runners and other miscreants, he added to list of civic rolling stock within the next few weeks.

For the Remainder of This Week we Present a Clever Exhibition of

WOMEN'S TAILORED COATS FOR AUTUMN WEAR

Unquestionably clever models are presented in this attractive showing. The foremost makers are represented in this brilliant gathering of authoritative styles. Women and Misses who have been planning on letting a sum, not exceeding seventeen fifty, buy them a new coat, will find in this collection just the very thing they want.

These Coats have only just been delivered so will necessarily be the latest productions possible. A distinctive feature is the collar, being the new trifold idea which can be worn either as a close fitting military style or as an open front with wide revers.

The accompanying illustration will show the two totally different styles, which stamps these coats the latest and most up-to-date procurable. We have a large assortment of colorings, the most fashionable being navys, browns and greys.

In addition to the above we have a fine selection of heavy reversible tweeds and chevrons, now so much worn. These are of the best quality plain cloths and heather mixtures, lining, facings, and revers of a smart plaid, which makes a very smart and attractive contrast.

We have just received our new trimmings and laces for Fall. In this department will be found trimmings of all descriptions. Gold and silver tinsel enter largely into the beautifying of these novelties. Oriental Alver Laces, with insertions to match, in either black or white grounds.

Dainty little pearl drop Edgings, particularly useful for evening wear, in pink, sky, nil, pearl grey, etc.

Heavy silk Fringes, 5 inches wide in brown, grey, coral, sky, pink, white, black, and many other shades.

Silk military Braids in white, cream, black, etc. These are just a few of the many novelties just to hand, and which go to make our trimming department, a department where you cannot fail to find the latest Parisian ideas for the finishing touches to your new fall gown.

New Evening Scarves—Quite a New Idea

These Scarves, so necessary for theatre wear, may be had in crepe-de-chine with the ends handsomely printed in floral effects. Knitted silk with fringed ends, or a very wide hemstitched chignon scarf with a tinsel design, this is quite a new idea and comes in white, cream, navy, brown and other becoming shades.

Also for evening wear we have some handsome evening cloaks, of satin finish faced cloth embroidered with silk soutache braid, velvet or fur collars, lined white satinette; colors blue, grey, pink, fawn, lavender, etc.

Evening Cloak Department on First Floor

Visit the Dress Goods Section and inspect our showing of new Autumn fabrics, we have really a fine collection for you to choose from. Serges, basket cloths, diagonals, heavy Donegal tweeds, etc. One special line worthy of mention is an all wool camel hair cheviot which comes in navy, grey, fawn, brown etc., this makes up into very smart manish Suits and sells at, per yard 1.50

Children's dresses in all sizes for children, 3 to 16 years, will be found in the Children's Department.

Pretty sailor Dresses of strong serge, navy, trimmed with red braid, black and white checks in a variety of dainties. There will be a few of these on show in the window today, but you should pay a visit to the department to see what we are showing in these new and stylish dresses. Prices, according to age, up from. 1.00

ROYAL WELSH CHOIR.

This will be their last chance to hear the famous Royal Welsh Choir, which will open a two nights engagement at the Empire theatre on Friday, September 29 and giving a special matinee on Saturday. The plan for seats opened two days ago and from the number that has gone only standing room will be left the night the choir opens.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

At the Empire theatre, for three nights and Wednesday matinee, became on Monday evenings, October 2, the wonderfully popular and unusually successful play, "In Old Kentucky"

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Robert Knight desires to express his gratitude for the sympathy extended him in his deep bereavement, and would ask his many friends to accept this as an acknowledgement of same.

will be the attraction. While there is very little that has not been said in "In Old Kentucky" favor upon other occasions by other newspapers, the coming of the play to this city will give a dramatic event for play-goers who have never witnessed a performance of the play elsewhere—and it has been a regular visitor to Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and other Canadian cities for many years. The initial visit of this stirring play here will doubtless prove as successful as has its visit to all other cities in the United States and Canada. It is always eagerly greeted elsewhere, for it is one of the most wholesome and most entertaining dramas of the present-day stage. It possesses the universal appeal and pleases everyone. Every effort is made yearly by the management of "In Old Kentucky" to keep the production and company to the high standard of excellence that has always characterized its presentations. The management here will come directly after its Winnipeg appearances at the Walker theatre, and the company is the same big organization that plays the leading cities of the United States and Canada. The part of the brave little mountain boy, "In Old Kentucky" will be played for the third season by Miss Mildred Johnson. Others in the company will be Bert G. Clark, Geo. M. DeVere, Walter Fredericks, Andrew Hagar, Helen Gurney and Theora Carter.
